Central Ward to Form New Ambulance Service

With a growing population of over 100,000 — predominantly Negro — the Central Ward is the only ward in the city without a voluntary ambulance service.

There are some fifty accident cases answered by the City Ambulance Service in the Central Ward each day. Often there are reports of delay and instances where the police have to act as midwives and doctors as Newark's overloaded ambulance service is too busy to answer calls in time.

With these conditions in mind, a group, spearheaded by Carolyn Kelly has formed the Central Ward Ambulance Committee. Incorporated. This Committee, formed by interested citizens who live or do business in the Central Ward have accepted their humanitarian obligations to work together to alleviate the conditions in this area.

The plans of the Committee include the purchase of an ambulance and its auxiliary equipment, the training of a voluntary ambulance squad and the eventual construction of a First Aid Station. With these goals in mind the Committee has enlisted the aid of the Newark Branch of the American Red Cross to provide instruction in First Aid so that a highly trained cadre of qualified people will be available to

BICC Training Program Is Extended Two Months

Marks Second Extension For Experimental Group, Still Awaiting Approval Of $1,516,000 Proposal

The Business and Industrial Coordinating Council's experimental training program has been extended again by the U.S. Department of Labor until Nov. 30.

This is the second extension for the program, which was launched in March 1965 with a federal grant of $365,968 and was originally scheduled to end last June.

While the BICC is wrapping up the old program, it is still awaiting federal approval of a new $1,516,000 proposal to setup a machine training and basic education center to serve 2,000 adults.

William Mercer, BICC coordinator, said $19,960 will be spent to continue the old program for the next two months. The money will come from $90,000 in unspent funds from the original grant.

The on-the-job training part of the BICC's program was completed last week and will not be resumed, Mercer said. However, the other part of the program—pre-vocational courses at various area firms—will be continued and expanded during the next two months.

Free courses in basic mechanical and clerical skills are now under way at Hoffman-La Roche Inc., Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., Public Service Electric & Gas, Radio Corp. of America and Western Electric Co., and another five courses are to begin in the next few weeks. There are 164 graduates of the courses already at work, Mercer said.

The BICC will now begin compling records on the 417 persons who received on-the-job training at 56 companies, and the 554 who have enrolled in the pre-vocational courses.

The agency will also complete reports on the old programs, and begin laying groundwork for the new one, known as Skill Escalation Employment Development (SEED). It would be financed by $1,160,000 from the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments, and $400,000 from local industry.

Asked More

The BICC last spring presented a $2 million plan to the Labor Department, but later scaled it down through elimination of all on-the-job training.

The money left from the original grant was intended for payments to trainees. But the BICC fell short of its on-the-job training quota of 500 because many applicants lacked the basic knowledge or skill even to begin training.

As a result, the new program will stress reading, math and other fundamentals, so enrollees will be able to qualify for entry-level jobs or advanced training.

The new two-month extension of the BICC project was arranged by Stanley H. Ruttenberg, assistant secretary of labor.

Peace Corps Names Jerseyite To Post

A pharmacist who left his New Jersey home to volunteer for the Peace Corps in 1962 has been named the Peace Corps' Deputy Representative to the central African nation of Chad.

Homer L. Butler, 35, now in Fort Lamy, the capital of Chad, is the No. 2 man in the new Peace Corps program in that nation. The first Volunteers, about 40 of them, are expected to arrive there in October. They will work in education, health and rural community development.

Butler was graduated from Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in 1956 with a B.A. in pharmacy. He spent two years in the Army Medical Corps and then went to work as a chemical technician at FMC Corporations in Princeton, New Jersey. He became a registered pharmacist in New Jersey in 1960 and was named assistant manager of the E. J. Korvette Pharmacy in Trenton.

Butler volunteered for the Peace Corps in 1962 and was assigned to the small west African nation of Togo, where he was the chief pharmacist at a 200-bed hospital at Sokode. He completed his two-year tour as a Volunteer in 1964 and joined the Peace Corps staff as an associate representative in Dakar, Senegal, working with Volunteer English teachers and social workers.

He is the son of Mrs. Freda Bell, 85 Second Street, Trenton, New Jersey.

H-A Executive Reappointed

Herbert H. Tate, prominent Newark attorney and treasurer of the HERALD-ADVANCE was reappointed last week to the Newark Human Rights Commission by Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio.

Tate, who was first named to the commission in May 1963, is also first vice president of the N. J. Conference of NAACP branches. He is a former state assemblyman and leader of the Essex County Republican delegation, and former cultural attache at the U.S. Embassy in Karachi, Pakistan.

Two new appointees are Police Capt. Vincent J. Fitzsimmons, commander of the Youth Aid Bureau, and Jerry M. Porcelli, an examiner for the State Department of Banking and Insurance.

Also reappointed was Msgr. Vincent P. Coburn, administrator of St. Bridget's Catholic Church.

5-Year Terms

The four appointments were for five year terms. The newcomers, who will be sworn in this week at City Hall, replace Deputy Police Chief Richard J. Foley and Paul G. Cavicchia, whose terms expired last July 1. A spokesman for the mayor said they had asked not to be reappointed.

Fitzsimmons who joined the police department in 1947, has served in the patrol, radio and detective divisions. A captain since 1963, he is president of the Superior Officers Association.

He was graduated from Barringer High School and served in the Navy during World War II. He was awarded five battle stars. He is a trustee of Area Board 6 of the United Community Corp. and first vice president of the Police Athletic League.

Porcelli joined the Banking and Insurance Department in 1950, and has worked in the surplus lines examining office in Trenton since 1964. He was previously employed by the Internal Revenue Service.

Msgr. Coburn who was named to an unexpired term on the commission last December, has been at St. Bridget's since 1954 and was previously at St. Patrick's Pro-Cathedral for 10 years. He is also presiding judge of the Ecclesiastical Court of the Archdiocese of Newark.

The commission's 15 members—nine Whites and six Negroes—receive no salary, but there is a paid staff of seven professional and clerical workers. Members include another priest, Msgr. Thomas A. Carey of Queen of Angels Church, and another policeman, Capt. John M. Marks, as well as business, labor and community leaders.

'DOC WILSON'

"DOC WILSON" who's column "He Sees All" has appeared in the HERALD-ADVANCE over a period of several years died suddenly here last Wednesday morning in the emergency room of Harlem Hospital where he had been taken for treatment of a liver ailment. Doc Wilson was the pen name of Lucius (Lucky) Millinder, the great band leader of the Forties.

Doc Wilson was a favorite of Apollo Theatre, Savoy Ballroom, and Cotton Club audiences of a generation ago and a close friend of the late Al Capone.

The 56-year old showman was rushed to the hospital from his home at 63 E. 125th Street, and died shortly after his arrival. Millinder, who made the song, "Sweet Slumber," and many others popular in the 1940's, is survived by his wife Vifian and two sons, Lucius Jr., 8, and Tammy, 6.

Final rites were held Sunday at Unity Funeral Chapel, 2352 Eighth Avenue.

AKA Honors Dr. George

Alpha Kappa Alpha, America's oldest Greek-letter Sorority organized by Negro women, will honor Dr. Zelma W. George, newly appointed director of the Cleveland Job Corps Center for Women at a formal Reception on Sunday, October 2, 1966 and 4:00 to 6:00 P.M. at the Cleveland Center - 1588 Ansel Road.

Dr. Larzette G. Hale, Director of Development and Public Relations at Langston University, Langston, Oklahoma and the newly installed Supreme Basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, regards this occasion as significant for several reasons. It is an opportunity to better acquaint the Cleveland community with the service role of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority in providing greater educational and economic opportunities for America's youth. It is another occasion to invite and encourage the broader participation of the Cleveland community in the program of the Job Corps Center for Women and it provides an opportunity to formally present Dr. George in her new role of leadership as director of the Cleveland Job Corps Center for Women.

Dr. Zelma George, humanitarian, and former member of the U. S. Delegation to the XV General Assembly of the United Nations, has enjoyed a varied career of rich experiences. In addition to her world travels, she has been a juvenile court probation officer, college dean of women, social worker, organizer and director of a community center in Los Angeles and a Danforth Visiting Lecturer at colleges and other institutions throughout the country. Dr. George is listed in the 32nd Edition of "Who's Who" and has won an impressive list of citations and honors.

She was born in Texas and attended high school in Topeka, Kansas. Dr. George holds a Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of Chicago. She received her Masters in Personnel Administration and her Ph.D. in Sociology from New York University. She is the wife of Atty.

Clayborne George, Chairman of Cleveland's Civil Service Commission.

Special program features of the Reception in honor of Dr. George will include a receiving line of distinguished national and local personalities. Music will be rendered by a String Quartet from the Cleveland Orchestra and instrumentations by Miss Vivian Weaver, Cleveland Harpist.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority enjoys a long and distinguished record of extending community services in the areas of education, social welfare and special individual community projects.

Mrs. Kelley Deserves Thanks From City

The community spirit of an adventuress, former resident of Newark's Central Ward, undoubtedly inspired by South Ward community action programs, distinguished herself here last Thursday afternoon when she unfolded before a prominent gathering of local citizens plans for the establishing of a Central Ward Ambulance Service Center.

Mrs. Carolyn Kelley, former resident of the Central Ward, now residing and now a property owner of the South Ward, who reportedly conceived and spearheaded the program of the Newark Central Ward Ambulance Committee, Inc. in deserving of the gratitude of our entire city.

Silver Screen

"A Young World" is about young lovers who are in conscious revolt against their parents' standards and who attempt to convince the audience that THEY have discovered genuine "interpersonal relationships" and the true wonder of sex.

Despite a plot which has been run into the ground, namely, boy-meets-girl, girl gets in "trouble" and hooks boy, Italy's outstanding director and actor, Vittorio de Sica, has made a film of beauty, communicating a rather perceptive vision of today's world of young adults. The treatment of the growth of real love between two people whose first encounter was merely carnal is convincingly done.

"Cast A Giant Shadow" is the story of Mickey Marcus, an immigrant's son who graduated from West Point and then rose to several important positions in the army. A dynamic man, he was involved in the political life of New York and the country and met death in Israel, during the 1948 War of Independence. By a strange twist of fortune, Marcus was shot by his own sentry just hours before the truce with the Arabs went into effect.

Kirk Douglas as Mickey Marcus is acting as his best. Appearing in the film in cameo roles are John Wayne, Yul Brynner, and Frank Sinatra, with Angie Dickinson, Senta Berger, Luther Adler and James Donald giving generally admirable ensemble acting.

Museum Program

The Newark Museum, 49 Washington Street, has announced a return to its winter schedule of hours and resumption of its Sunday Electricity Demonstrations, which were not held during the summer.

Effective Saturday October 1, the Museum will be open Monday through Saturday from 12 noon to 5:30 p.m., Sundays and holidays from 2 to 6 p.m., and Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The Electricity Demonstrations, a popular Sunday afternoon entertainment for children and parents, will be resumed in the Science Galleries of the Museum on Sunday, October 2. Irving Black, Science Department Supervisor, said that the free demonstrations will be given every Sunday at 2:45 and 3:45 p.m. until the end of May.

John Canaday, art critic of the New York Times, will talk on Problems of the Small Museum at a special session of the Northeast Museums Conference of the American Association of Museums, meeting at the Newark Museum from October 5 to 8. The Canaday talk, which will be followed by a question and answer period, is scheduled for Thursday, October 6 at 8:00 p.m. in discussing small museums

Jackie Robinson... Brief But Bitter

(ANP Feature)

One wonders why the Klansman accused of murdering Viola Liuzzo was acquitted in Alabama court last week.

One wonders why District Attorney Flowers - a man who has shown such a great courage on the Civil Rights front - failed to call some important witnesses to testify.

One wonders why there were eight Negroes on the jury and only four whites in a state notorious for excluding Negroes from jury duty.

One wonders if the eight Negroes were chosen because they were "safe."

One wonders.

Big Mouth... (ANP Feature)

By ALFRED DUCKETT

Little Mouth Gets Talked Out Of Being A School Drop-Out

"I feels most proud - like I has really, really accomplished something great. Little Mouth and I has had our first disagreement since he have become my adopted son. Little Mouth, if you has been paying attention, is a teen-aged Puerto Rican boy what shines shoes in my favorite Saturday afternoon hangout, The Down Home Barber Shop in Brooklyn. He are a great little fellow and he have tremendous taste, specially since he really dig me and he dig me so much everyone call him Little Mouth. That all right with me too.

Anyhow, Little Mouth have got into the habit of stopping by my place every once in a while. He have quite a busy schedule for a youngster. He go to early bird session school. Then he work afternoons until about six at the Down Home Barber Shop. Then he got the homework to do and besides he gotta live some. He young. Anyhow, he were by my place last night and that when we have our big disagreement which, by the way, we enjoyed tremendous.

The disagreement come up when Little Mouth told me he were considering dropping out of school.

"Young boy out of school mean young boy a fool," I told him. "That is unless he just have to leave for some reason he can't help. You got a reason you can't help?"

"No," Little Mouth told me. "I just figure what's the use going to school all your life. I goes into this drug store in my own neighborhood to get a cup of coffee. White man waits on me. White cashier ring up my and their problems, Mr. Canaday will develop a theme with which he has dealt recently in a series of newspaper articles. It is expected that his subject will have strong appeal for the delegates, who come from museums in neighboring states and Eastern Canada. New small museums and community cultural centers are opening in increasing numbers throughout the country.

Conference officials have arranged to permit non-members of the Conference to attend Mr. Canaday's talk because of widespread interest in the subject. A special Conference registration fee ($2.00) has been set for this event to accommodate public admission.

money. Puerto Rican busboy in back washing dishes and Negro porter emptying garbage. I know I'm young, but I think too, you know. So I tell myself: white man got everything sewed up. Why knock myself out going to school. So I can be a porter or a busboy?"

"This boy really thinking, you see. But I not gonna let him use this for a excuse. I told him Negroes and Puerto Ricans can own drug stores too and they can be cashiers and countermeas too. I point out to him that they lotsa Negroes and Puerto Ricans own they own businesses and I told him things is getting better, day by day. He be out there like a cripple man without a crutch if he drop out of school. I told him I'd rather be a porter with a Ph.D. than a reporter with no degree. I told him education don't help fools, but only a fool will refuse to take advantage of education. I reminded him of a swinging sign I see in the New York Subways which say - 'Boy - That's what they'll be calling you all your life if you don't have an education.' Well, we argued back and forth. He were not hard to convince and I found out something. He did not really want to drop out of school. He just want to find someone who interested in telling him he shouldn't drop out. He wanted to be straightened out. That the way it is with a lot of our young people. They think they fathers and mothers not really interested. Sometimes they right. Sometimes these fathers and mothers does not realize they children wants to be given advice and guidance. Should be some way for fathers and mothers and childrens to get closer together. I hears everybody talk about kids dropping out from school. Well, some these fathers and mothers are to blame 'cause they done dropped out from they parenthood. I sure am glad Little Mouth and me got each other - even if we is commonlaw relatives."

Dr. Rebecca Cole, a physician, was the first Negro woman to graduate from the Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia, Pa. She died in 1922.

History Sessions At Morgan State

Educators and interested persons from fifty leading American colleges and universities, top government officials, renowned historians, administrators of private institutions and foundations will converge on Morgan State College, October 21-23, for the 51st annual meeting of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History.

According to Dr. Charles H. Wesley, Executive Director of the Association and President Emeritus of Central State University, "the new and accelerating awareness of the need for Americans to know more about Negro history will cause a record-breaking attendance at this session in Baltimore. There will be more universities and colleges participating than ever before and the active interest of top level government officials will be also at an all time high."

Some of the outstanding government officials to appear are: Dr. Samuel B. Proctor, U.S. Institute for Services to Educators; Harold T. Pinkett, National Archives; John McDonough, Library of Congress; Dr. Samuel Z. Westerfield, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs; Phyllis A. Wallace, Federal Equal Opportunities Employment Commission; and James C. Harkless, Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Lorenzo J. Green of Lincoln University (Mo.), president of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History for the current year, has said, "Those who do not attend this session will miss much information which, as Americans, they should possess." Educational institutions large and small will have representatives present. Among these are: Yale, Morgan State College, Rhode Island College, Michigan State University, Southern Illinois University, Central State University, Johns Hopkins University, Roosevelt University, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Catholic University of America, Virginia State College, Howard University, University of Maryland, University of Pennsylvania, and the University of Wisconsin.

The opening session of the convention on October 21 will take place at Carl Murphy auditorium on the campus of Morgan State College.

Sheriff's Squad To Take FBI Training

Essex County Sheriff Le Roy J. D'Aloia announced today that the entire Narcotics Squad of the Sheriff's Department has been enrolled in the Federal Bureau of Narcotics Seminar, to be held in Vail Hall, New Jersey Bell Telephone Building, on October 26, 27 and 28.

The Seminar is sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics in cooperation with the Newark Police Department and the New Jersey State Narcotics Enforcement Officers Association.

Sheriff D'Aloia, who has been active in narcotics enforcement for many years, looks upon the Seminar as an excellent refresher course in the newest techniques of detection and apprehension and an opportunity to learn from experts of national, state and local agencies. The majority of the Sheriff's squad have successfully passed the Federal Bureau's narcotic course in the past and this will serve to review and up-date their knowledge of the subject.

Here's how!

Believe it or not, there are nine full glasses of Schaefer beer in every six-pack.

And that means nine glasses of the most rewarding flavor you've ever tasted. Flavor that doesn't fade after a couple of beers.

Even after your thirst is gone, the pleasure keeps coming on. You can count on Schaefer to deliver the same great taste—beer after beer.

So for your next party, pick up several six-packs of Schaefer—the one beer to have when you're having more than one.

The annual election of officers of the Mothers' Club of the West Side Unit of the Boys' Clubs of Newark was held this week according to William M. Jordan, Unit Director. Jordan praised the club for the scholarship fund they established and for their numerous other activities which account for many furnishings and equipment not provided for in the Boys' Club budget. The 1966-67 officers were installed last week by Peter A. Adams, President of the Advisory Board of Directors of the West Side Unit. The new officers are, standing left to right, Gloria Harrison, Corresponding Secretary; Vivian Mackason, Secretary-Treasurer; Sophia Thatch, Financial Secretary; and seated, A. Irene Patterson, President and Roberta Ikner, Vice President. The new slate pledged to surpass their accomplishments of the past and announced a drive to interest more people in membership for the benefit of the West Side Unit.

St. John's Methodist

The Laymen of the St. John's Methodist Church will be in charge of the 11:00 A.M. services on Sunday, October, 9th, 1966. The theme for that day is "The Servanthood of the Church." This day is being celebrated in each church in the Northern Conference of New Jersey. Mr. Edward H. Taylor who is the charge lay leader and all the members of the church are inviting their relatives and friends to be present.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Henry L. Taylor, Chief of Schools, Education and Training Staff, Rural Community Development Service, United States Dept. of Agriculture Washington, D.C. His subject will be "Christianity and the Modern Challenge." The four major points that he will discuss are (1) The Challenge to be Christlike, (2) The Challenge of Loneliness, (3) The Challenge of Traditionalism and (4) The Challenge to Unite a Fragmental World.

Dr. Taylor went to A. & L. State University, Nashville, Tennessee in October, 1946, as assistant Professor of Poultry. He was head of the Agricultural Economics Dept. and Director of Farm Records and Accounts from 1951-58. He served as Head of the Dept. of Agri. Education and Economics from 1958-64. Currently he is on leave to serve in his present position.

He is the founder and author of "Agricultural Legislation for this month in Washington," Published monthly since January 1959 when Congress is in session. Also some opinions on and reactions to John K. Galbraith's

The Affluent Society, January 1960 and several other papers and pamphlets.

He is a member of many organizations both fraternal and professional namely Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity, Frontiers of America International Club and others. He is married and has two sons and two daughters.

Rev. T. M. Booth is the minister of this church and it is located at 13th Avenue and High Street.

Win Elliot of the "Schaefer Circle of Sports" was surprised when his twelve-year-old boy returned from a birthday party only an hour after it started. "How come you're back so quick?" asked Win. "I suggested we play post office and when the girl's mother heard about it, she sent me home special delivery," he said.

Social Security NOTES

A change made in the Social Security law this year provides for a special social security benefit that may be paid to men and women 72 or older who could not qualify for benefits under the old law.

Under this provision, people who were born before 1896 may receive a special benefit beginning at 72 even though they never worked under social security.

If a person is eligible for any periodic benefit under a governmental pension system his special social security benefit will be reduced by the amount of the pension or payment.

A person can ask at his social security district office for detailed information as to how this reduction would apply to him.

The benefit of $35.00 a month is payable beginning October 1966 if a person is 72 or over that month. If he reaches 72 after October, the benefit payment begins with the month of his 72nd birthday.

If a person will be 72 or over in October and has already applied for hospital insurance protection, the Social Security office will get in touch with him. But if he is one of the few people who have not applied for hospital insurance protection he should get in touch with his local Social Security office now.

The office in Newark is at 1016 Broad Street and the telephone number is 645-2180. The office is open on Wednesday evenings until 9 p.m. He should ask about hospital insurance protection as well as this new special benefit.

Questions & Answers

Dear Aunt Ruth:

Last night my girl friend and I were both sitting around with nothing to do, when suddenly we started talking about pierced ears and well, one thing led to another and pretty soon we were crouched before a mirror with a hot needle and some ice cubes. She pierced mine first, and then I did hers. We were awfully giggly about the whole thing. But when my father saw me, he had a fit. Called me all sorts of names. Said I was loose and common. But that's not true. I pierced my ears because I was bored and the idea attracted me, like a new dress or a good movie or something. I don't think it indicates any lacking in my moral principles. Do you?

Sincerely,
Pierced

Dear Pierced:

Fathers have the habit of adhering to something from long ago and long ago only prostitutes, etc. had their ears pierced. Or at least so I am told. I wouldn't worry too much about the affair. It's all a matter of change, and it often takes an older generation a while to adjust. Always remember to consider them when you do something which will seem radical to them.

Local Businessmen
Attend Seminar

About 30 established and prospective Negro businessmen attended the first of eight free Wednesday evening seminars on "How to Own and Operate the Business of Your Choice", this week at the Prudential Insurance Co., 745 Broad St., Newark.

Adrian M. Unger, a Newark attorney directed the first session. He discussed forms of business ownership, types of businesses available, the role of management, and the basic goals of business operation.

The series is sponsored by the Interracial Council for Business Opportunity and coordinated by Thomas Millard, associate professor of sociology at Montclair State College. It covers basic business organization; sources of credit and use of funds; legal services and your business insurance needs and your business, merchandising, advertising and sales, "taxes and your business," and the use of "break-even" analysis.

George D. Kelsey II, director of the Greater Newark ICBO, commenting on the purpose of the seminars, said, "We want to introduce existing or new businessmen to rudimentary principals for all types of business. We hope that these seminars will acquaint Negroes starting in business, or already established, to ICBO and its free facilities."
